The selectmen will support the Reuse Committee's plans for East Junior High and three other town buildings at town meeting later this month.

Three board members gave Article 11 on the town meeting warrant their stamp of approval Monday night, while two abstained.

After Town Manager Kenneth R. Mahony described plans to consolidate town and school administration offices in East Junior High, Selectman William Dalton said he liked "the concept of the plan," but had "enough doubts to abstain."

"I hope by town meeting I will feel comfortable enough to support it," Dalton added.

Edward Harris said he had doubts about the reuse committee's plans as well, particularly because they do not explain exactly what would happen to Town Hall, the Essex Street theatre building, and the Shawsheen School after town and school offices vacated those buildings. He passed on the vote.

In response to Harris' concern that there is no specific plan for those three buildings, the manager explained that "there is no answer at this point — and to force an answer at this point would be inappropriate."

Donn Byrne said he supported the article because it is simply an "enabling" article that would allow the town to solicit developers' proposals for renovating the buildings. All proposals would need future town meeting approval before anything could happen to the buildings.

To delay taking action now, with the two EJH wings about to be turned over to the town this summer, would be "a mistake," Byrne said. Chairman Norma Gammon and Gerald Silverman agreed.

But Dalton pointed out that the article also asks for a $3.5 million appropriation — or greater — for construction and planning costs at East. "The language is very general — it's asking for carte blanche approval."

He suggested amending the article by limiting the appropriation to $3.5 million, and not greater. That might make the article "more palatable to voters," Dalton said.

Byrne, however, argued that that would "reduce our options" and could force officials to return to town meeting in the future for more money — which he would be opposed to under any circumstances. No action was taken to amend the article.

According to the manager, after considering several alternatives the reuse committee now recommends putting town offices into all three floors of the east wing, and school offices on the second and third floor of the west wing.

The town and schools could save money by sharing space for centralized maintenance.

Peroni has been associated with the Haverhill college since 1969, serving as registrar and director of the evening school before assuming his present position seven years ago. A graduate of Salem State College, he holds Master's Degree from Boston University.

He, his wife, JoAnn and two children, reside in Andover.

And, they approved Neil Rose of North Street as the manager of the Towne Deli, Inc., 207 North Main St.

Video Game License Forfeited

Papa Gino's has forfeited its chance to install a video game in its Shawshen Plaza restaurant, at least for the time being. After repeated requests from the town manager, the restaurant management has failed to submit a sketch of where the machine would be located, the manager said Monday night.

The restaurant first requested an automatic amusement device license during February. After determining that Papa Gino's would not need a Zoning Board of Appeals permit for the game, the selectmen asked the restaurant to submit a sketch of the proposed location. Board members were concerned that the machine would take up too much space.

This week the selectmen agreed with the town manager's recommendation that the license request be denied, because the restaurant has failed to submit a drawing. Selectman William Dalton suggested giving Papa Gino's one more chance and tabling the decision again, but was defeated by his colleagues on a four-one vote.

The restaurant still has the option of applying for the license again, the manager indicated.

School Budget Discussion Snowed Out

Tuesday's springtime blizzard forced the cancellation of this week's School Committee meeting, postponing budget discussions until next week.

School Chairman Richard Neal said meetings have been scheduled for next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights. And, he added, the committee is prepared to meet next Saturday morning, if necessary.

The committee will now have two weeks to carve a $12.9 million budget out of their current $14 million budget in time for town meeting, which begins Monday, April 26.

Solar Group Program

Merrimack Valley Solar Energy Association is sponsoring a talk with slides on the subject of solar wall collectors on Wednesday, April 14, at 7:30 p.m. at the Greater Lawrence Regional Vocational Technical School, Room L4, River Road, Andover. Fred Snell, an engineer and wall collector homeowner, will be the speaker. A wall collector is a single solar panel mounted vertically on a south facing wall using air as a medium to transfer heat from the collector to the dwelling space. This device is one of the most cost efficient ways of adding solar to existing houses. Almost every house has a south facing wall and if that wall receives six hours of sunshine per day, it can be used for a collector. In most cases, collectors qualify for tax credits.

On Saturday, April 17, MVSEA will hold a Hands-On Workshop where participants will build a wall collector.

The talk is free and open to the public. The workshop is by reservation and there is a fee for materials. For further information, call Fred Snell or Julia Morse of Andover.

Gypsy Moth Information To Be Provided Residents

Every indication points to another major gypsy moth infestation in 1982. Andover's Gypsy Moth Subcommittee is committed to inform townspeople of measures that homeowners can take to protect their property, specially shade and ornamental trees.

A Gypsy Moth Advisory Bulletin has been prepared and will be included in the Finance Committee Report which will be sent to every household. Additional copies will also be available at Town Hall and the library.

Warrant Items To Be Discussed

Two units on Town Meeting Warrant will be held by the League of Women Voters. The Tuesday, April 13, unit is at 9:15 at the home of Natasha Paul, 36 Hidden Road. Babysitting arrangements may be made by calling Ileen Conn. The Thursday, April 15, unit is at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Marge Bradshaw, 4 Sioux Circle. Both meetings are open to the public as a means of providing valuable information prior to Town Meeting which begins on Monday, April 26, at East Junior High School at 7:30 p.m.

Warrant items will be presented by members of the Observer Corps. Handling items from the Board of Selectmen will be Sue Dennett, Betty Phillips and Judy Medler. Barbara Worcester, observer to the School Committee, will present the latest information in the School Committee's attempts to present a $12.9 million budget which will be most satisfactory to them, with constraints placed by proposition 2½ and the current school building financing costs.

Linda Carpenter will present information relative to the proposed bylaw change which would limit the powers of the Finance Committee to prohibit the calling of special town meetings. Debbie Aikman will present her findings regarding the conservation proposals after hiking the two properties adjacent to town watershed and the abandoned B&M railroad bed between Lowell Street and Haggetts Pond Road.

The Warrant Units permit the league to come into Town Meeting with positions either opposing or supporting warrant items. The league can take positions only on previously studied items.

A Forum on Gypsy Moth Control will be held on Wednesday, April 14, at 7:30 p.m. at West Junior High School. Speakers will include John Kimball, a member of the Gypsy Moth Subcommittee and a biology professor at Tufts University; Lou Wells, an entomologist who is supervisor of pesticide programs for the Department of Food and Agriculture, Commonwealth of Massachusetts; Paul H. Etkind, epidemiologist with the Department of Public Health, Commonwealth of Massachusetts. Subjects to be covered will include an explanation of the moth's life cycle, non-chemical methods of control, proper use of recommended pesticides and the cause and care of skin irritations.

Working on the public education program for Andover are Everett Penney, director of Board of Health, James Bamford, forestry superintendent, and Dorothy Sherrerd, community services librarian.

Playground Registration Underway

The Andover Department of Community Services is accepting registrations for three of its summer playground programs. The playgrounds, which begin the week of Monday, June 28, include a tiny tot playground for 2½ to 4 year olds; a preschool playground for 4-6 year olds; an all-day playground for children who have completed grades 1-6 (as of June 28).

The department, in an effort to meet the needs of various working parents, is offering a new preschool format as well as extended coverage for the preschool and all-day playgrounds. The all new tiny tot playground will be held at West Elementary School between 9 a.m. and 12 noon. Parents may register their children for either a three-day (Monday, Wednesday, Friday) schedule or a two-day (Tuesday, Thursday) schedule; a five-day program is optional. Children must be toilet trained. Close supervision will be provided (5:1 ratio).

A morning (9 a.m. to 12 noon) and an afternoon (12:30 p.m. to 3:30 p.m.) schedule is offered the preschool playground to be held at Bancroft School Monday through Friday. Coverage will be provided between 12:01:30 p.m. for those enrolling in both sessions. A ratio of eight children to one staff member will be provided. Both playgrounds offer arts and crafts, nature walks and storytelling, as well as the opportunity to meet and learn how to play with a variety of children their own age.

Extended hours are available between 8 a.m. to 9 a.m. for the morning session and 3:30 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. for the afternoon session.

The all-day playground will be held at the Greater Lawrence Regional Vocational School between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. Monday through Friday. Designed for children of working parents (though open to everyone) this program provides a full day of activities. Unlike the regular playground where children are permitted to come and go as they please, close supervision will be provided (10:1 ratio). Activities will include arts and crafts, swimming, sports and games. Additionally, a weekly trip or special event off the playground is planned. Lunch is not provided, but a daily beverage is. Transportation will be available from selected locations throughout Andover. Extended hours are available from 8 a.m. to 9 a.m. and from 4 p.m. to 5 p.m.

Parents may register their children for the entire eight-week program or individual weeks at the DCS office in Shawsheen School Monday through Friday 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Playgrounds begin Monday, June 28, and end Friday, Aug. 20. Enrollment is limited.

Registration for the elementary school playgrounds at Bancroft, Sanborn, West Elementary School and Ballardvale playground begins on Wednesday, June 16.

Summer Jobs Available For Teachers

The Department of Community Services is looking for instructors to teach enrichment and specialty courses for the upcoming Summer Program beginning the week of June 28. Subjects dealing in arts and crafts, creative writing, computer games, first aid, cooking and folk guitar are a few of the selections being offered. The program will run for six weeks with individual subjects running two or three times per week. Programs will be offered to elementary and junior high as well as adult students.

Instructors who are interested in teaching the above skill areas or any other unique subject should contact the Department of Community Services, Shawsheen School, Ann's Lane, Andover.

Arts, Crafts Fair

The First Annual Arts and Crafts Fair, sponsored by the Greater Lawrence YWCA, will be held May 16 from 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. The gymnasium and two halls will be open for exhibitors and sale of a variety of crafts. More than 80 spaces will be available.

Members and staff of the YWCA will operate a snack bar throughout the day, serving coffee, tea and light lunches under the direction of Mrs. Edna Jerackas.

Mrs. Alice Kramm, as chairman, urges area craftsmen to apply before all spaces are reserved.

Dance

A Little Dance will be held at St. Matthew's Lodge, A.F. and A.M., 7 High St., Andover, Saturday, April 10 from 8 p.m. to midnight. A door prize will be awarded and refreshments served. Tickets will be available at the door.

Yoga Group To Observe Anniversary

The Andover Siddha Yoga Meditation Center will celebrate its fifth anniversary with a special program conducted by a Boston yoga teacher.

Swami Shraddhananda, director of the Boston Siddha Meditation Ashram in Chestnut Hill, will speak and give instruction on how to meditate on Tuesday, April 13, at 8 p.m. at the Andover Center at 45 Whittier St. The public is invited at no charge.

Swami Shraddhananda, a former teacher of drama in Chicago and Oakland, Calif., is a member of the ancient order of Saraswati monks, a tradition with roots in eighth century India. She has been director of the Boston ASHRAM, on of 300 worldwide, since December 1980.

The Andover Center started at the home of Alfred and Joan Dahlgren in April 1977. The center also offers special meditation and Hatha yoga courses throughout the year and is open to the public every Tuesday night at 8 p.m. for a meditation program.

Meditation is method of self-discovery that has been practiced in a variety of ways since the beginning of humanity. Whatever technique is used, the purpose has always been the same—to experience peace, relaxation, happiness and an understanding of one's innermost self.

Interpreters Are Needed

The Help for Children Committee of the Greater Lawrence Council for Children desperately needs Spanish interpreters to assist Hispanic parents with doctor's appointments, school conference, etc., on a volunteer basis.

"A language barrier is very difficult," says Breseida Quiles, child advocate for the Office for Children. "Parents sometimes take their children to the doctor and don't understand what's happening to their child because they just don't know enough English."

As part of her work for OFC, Breseida often goes with parents to help translate, but keeping up with the number of requests is difficult and is especially distressing if she knows that parents must cancel an appointment because she cannot go with them.

Help for Children is hoping to organize a pool of interpreters to assist parents when they need a translator. If you are bilingual Spanish/English and are available during day and can spare a few hours each month, contact Breseida Quiles at the Office for Children.

New Recycling Calendars Out

Recycling information and calendars for April 1982 through March 1983 have been mailed recently with Andover property owners' tax bills. Extra calendars and information sheets are available at Town Hall. Along with information on how to recycle newspapers and magazines, corrugated cardboard, clear glass and green glass, the information sheet provides the latest figures on recycling costs versus trash disposal costs to the town.

It now costs $40.76—twice as much as the $19.05 recycling cost—to dispose of a ton of trash. With this considerable cost difference in mind, the Andover Public Works Department and Andover Recycling, Inc. urge townspeople to continue and increase their recycling volume. Very few communities as yet have the luxury of curbside pickup of recyclables. In many other towns and cities people who believe in recycling are willing to go out of their way to bring materials to sometimes remote recycling stations. New residents of Andover are especially encouraged to give recycling a try although it may be a completely new system to them.

Occasionally, it becomes apparent that people are confused about what materials are suitable for recycling or how they should be prepared for pickup. Brown glass is no longer accepted because of poor market conditions. Clear glass must be put in separate containers from green glass. For glass, reusable containers such as plastic trash cans or laundry baskets are easiest for the contractor to empty, but they should never be used for papers and magazines which need to be bound with string or packed into double paper grocery bags to that they will not slip off or blow out of the truck. Corrugated cardboard is processed separately from other paper and should be separated from it just as the glass is separated by color. It should be collapsed and securely tied into manageable-sized bundles.

In addition to recycling services for glass and paper, Andover Recycling, Inc. operates a yearly spring recycling event, which is to be a Giant Recycling Sale on Saturday, May 22, at Draper Hall on School Street. Anyone discarding reusable appliances, sporting equipment, yard implements, furniture and other household goods is invited to call any of the information numbers on the new blue calendar, or Mrs. James W. Beattie, Peter Stark of Boy Scout Troop 72, or Mrs. Clement Hutchins. Mrs. Hutchins is also managing the town aluminum drive on Saturday, May 1, from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Energy Audits Result In Conservation

The latest survey undertaken to determine the impact that Mass-Save is having on energy conservation in Massachusetts indicates that the utility-sponsored program is motivating audited householders to actively undertake energy conservation improvements.

Mass-Save is the non-profit energy conservation program mandated by the federal and state governments to provide residential home energy audits. More than 70,000 audits have been provided to date.

Conducted by Decision Research Corporation of Lexington, the survey found that of the households audited in 1981, about half had already accomplished five or more energy conservation measures.

Additionally, very few customers audited by Mass-Save had failed to accomplish any conservation measures since their audit.

Executive Director of Mass-Save, John B. Roll noted that the survey findings were very encouraging. "Most Mass-Save customers do act on energy conservation recommendations following their audits. For those audited in early 1981, an average of $700 has already been spent on energy improvements."

The survey determined the 40 percent of the conservation spending went to insulation, 30 percent toward heating system work and 25 percent to tightening the house envelope.

From Drawing On Walls To Artistic Rewards

By Sue Aucella Deacon

She has always been an artist.

When she was a little girl, she drew on the walls. When she grew up and got married and had seven children — including three sets of twins — she escaped to art classes to help her relax.

Today she exhibits her watercolors and pastels throughout the area, is a partner in a Maine art gallery, teaches art classes in Andover — and paints every moment she can.

"I just love to paint," Bette Wasserboehr of Buchan Road explains. "To me, it's creative, it's an inspiration. Every painting is different. And every time I start something, it's a new challenge."

The Wasserboehrs — Bette; her husband, Paul; and the youngest of their children, twins Richard and Robert — moved to Andover from Reading four years ago. She has found the warmth of townspeople here "amazing," noting that the nature of the town is both sophisticated and friendly.

She works at home in a studio, tucked into a corner of the first floor, that she shares with the furnace. (She admits she has designs on one of her son's rooms for the future.) Paul Wasserboehr, a freelance commercial artist for the past 25 years, works in a larger studio a few feet away.

A still life in progress lies across a table in her studio, and a just-completed portrait of her granddaughter, Kimmy, taking a bath in the kitchen sink of the Wasserboehrs' summer home in Maine is propped against a wall. "I wanted to catch that scene," she explains. "She'll be too big for the sink next summer."

There are several award ribbons tacked up in a row, just a few of the 150 awards she has won "through the years." Most recently, she took home the Graphics Art and Design Award from a Springfield exhibit last fall, in which she competed against artists from around the country. And one of her paintings was chosen for the American Mutual Insurance Company's 1982 calendar.

Her works share a soft and glowing quality, an occasional vibrant blue or orange sparking muted tones and subtle light. She paints still lifes, landscapes, and portraits — her specialty when her children were younger, but something she devotes less time to now.

"Portraiture was my first love, especially children. But I'm just reaching the point where I want to please myself — and with portraits, you are constantly pleasing someone else."

She has been an artist for what "seems like a hundred years," Bette says with a grin. She is a graduate of the New England School of Art (where she met her husband), and after marrying she studied at the Museum School of Art at the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston.

During the first years of her career, she worked as a freelance fashion illustrator in Boston, delivering work for major department stores in time to meet newspaper advertising deadlines. She liked "the fashion part of it"; she was less fond of the deadline pressure.

Mrs. Wasserboehr has also worked as an interior decorator, but again found she "didn't like the business end of it. I'd rather be painting."

"All the twins" and her portrait years followed: She painted in the kitchen of a rambling old farmhouse, "with everyone running in and out," and attended art classes during those years. "It was a relaxation for me to do art."

But although her painting was more a hobby than a career while her family was young, Bette says she always took a serious approach to art.

"I've always been serious about it," she says strongly. "I've always been drawing, since I was a little kid — I was always drawing on the walls. But now that my family is grown up, I can spend more time doing what I want to do."

The winter months find her working indoors, mostly on still lifes; in the summertime, she moves outside to do landscapes. "Andover has got some beautiful places to paint, and North Andover, too. There are lots of barns and old houses."

An old Andover home that once served as the music house for Abbot Academy, located across from Phillips Academy, inspired her to paint it in the winter, "because I just loved it." She made sketches while huddled in her car, worked on the painting at home, then returned the next day to make changes.

Later the finished product was included in an exhibit at Memorial Hall Library — where the owner of the house saw it, loved it, and decided instantly to buy it.

The Wasserboehrs move home base to Kennebunkport, Maine from June to September, combining work and summer vacation. Wasserboehr and Andover artist Corey Staid are two of four partners who opened the Village Gallery in Kennebunkport nine years ago.

They exhibit their work there and take turns running the gallery, painting as they chat with visitors from all over the country. Mrs. Wasserboehr exhibits in shows in Maine as well.

Back in Andover, Bette teaches art classes to small groups of students "age 14 to 74" at the Bank of New England, Bay State. The classes are sponsored by the Andover Artist Guild; she is a member of the Guild board.

"I'm enthused about teaching. Maybe because it's still new to me, because I haven't been doing it for years and years, I feel my ideas are still fresh, and it means more to me." She has been teaching in Andover since she moved to town, and before that offered classes in Reading.

She enjoys watching the "improvement and progress" of her students. One student was recently accepted by the competitive Rhode Island School of Design, and there was "a lot of satisfaction in that. My students come because they want to come, they enjoy what they do. They're a good group."

Some of her students' work, along with her own, will be exhibited at Memorial Hall Library during May. (A sampling of Bette's work is currently on exhibit through April at the Stevens Memorial Library in North Andover.)

A member of several artists' organizations, she exhibits "all over. It's a full-time job just gettings paintings to shows and belonging to these organizations." Her memberships include the Copley Society of Boston, and she has been named a Copley Artist, an honor reserved for artists who have exhibited with the society repeatedly.

For all her experience, the artist says each new effort is still a challenge. "I'm always learning — if I didn't feel that way, I think I'd be through painting. I learn something with every single thing I do. And the more you learn, the more you demand of yourself."

A new painting begins not on paper, but "in my head. It all begins with an idea, with a lot of thinking and planning." When something catches her interest — like the sight of her little granddaughter bathing in the kitchen sink — she usually reaches for her camera. "I take a lot of slides, and use photography a lot to work from."

Then she transfers her thoughts to paper, with a small "thumbnail" sketch, or a series of sketches. "I emphasize drawing in my classes. It's one of the most important things."

She then draws the picture on the paper she will use, after deciding how large it will be, and begins painting. It may take two hours or two days or two weeks to complete — "You just never know." Her portrait of Kimmy was finished in one week.

To complete the work, she mats and frames her paintings herself.

What's it like working at home now without seven children underfoot? "Just great," she says, laughing. "The difficult part was always to be in the middle of a painting and have to stop to get dinner." She still has to deal with everyday interruptions like a ringing telephone, "but you get used to that."

She is obviously proud of her family, and two of her children have followed their parents into careers as artists.

Jack, the oldest at 33 (and the father of Kimmy), is a country club manager, currently hoping to move his family from Pennsylvania back to this area; David is a freelance commercial artist in New Jersey and his twin, Ann, is a laboratory aide at the Harvard School of Public Health. Boston; Patricia teaches sculpture at Boston University and works as a sculptor in Boston, and her twin, Paul, is a senior product promotions specialist for Digital in Maynard; Richard is a junior at the University of Lowell and works for the Arlington Trust Computer Co. in Methuen, and his twin, Robert, works for Chem Lawn Corp. in Andover and attends Merrimack College.

Mrs. Wasserboehr credits her husband with helping to make her career possible: "Without his understanding and support, I couldn't do what I do."

She feels she has succeeded as an artist, "because I really love what I'm doing. Anybody who can say that has to consider herself successful to some degree."

But she does not attribute her success to luck. "A lot of people seem to think it's a gift from God. But it's really more hard work than a gift — you have to be willing to put the work into it. It's not the easiest thing to get into."

Hard work, six twins, late dinners and all, Bette Wasserboehr cannot recall a time when she considered life without art. "I can't imagine myself doing anything else," she says softly. "I really can't."

Remembering The Sinking Of The Titanic

On Wednesday, April 14, at 8 p.m., the Peabody Museum of Salem will observe the 70th anniversary of the sinking of the Titanic with a special program entitled "The Titanic Recalled."

On this date, exactly 70 years ago, RMS Titanic collided with an iceberg in the North Atlantic on her maiden voyage to New York City. Two hours and 20 minutes later she sank. Although 700 were saved, twice that number perished. The Titanic's passenger list ranged from powerful to poor: from Astors and Guggenheims to Irish immigrants.

Meat, fish eggs, garlic and paprika, chemicals, cosmetics and medicines are among the substances producing skin rashes. "Those who develop contact urticaria after touching or working with these substances may develop a variety of adverse effects including hives and possibly difficulty in breathing, according to a report in the Journal of the American Academy of Dermatology. Cooking is reported to destroy the allergenic properties of certain foods responsible for such reactions.

In the seven decades since the Titanic went to the bottom of the Sigsby Deep—two miles down—fantastic stories have developed regarding the ship and shipwreck. There is continual speculative talk about salvage although attempts to locate and photograph the wreck have been unsuccessful.

John Maxtone-Graham, author of "The Only Wat to Cross," will present an illustrated lecture in which he will examine the myths that surround the Titanic and separate fact from fiction. He will also discuss the ship's design and detail the events of the RMS Titanic's disastrous maiden voyage which ended in a rendezvous with an iceberg on a cold starlit April night in 1912.

Breakfast

A family breakfast will be served at St. Matthew's Lodge A.F. and A.M., 7 High St., Andover, Sunday, April 18 from 8 to 11 a.m. Special prices will be available to senior citizens.

Award-Winning Editorials Aren't Always Popular

By John P. Sawyer

"Parents are occasionally associated with negative characteristics, but the majority of the time, these accusations are false."

That's not a parent speaking. It's an Andover High School student.

He's the co-editor-in-chief of the school newspaper, 'The Rock,' which recently won an honorable mention award for editorial writing in Suffolk University's 12th Annual Greater Boston High School Newspaper Competition.

Randy Lynch isn't afraid to stick his neck out on the issues.

His editorials this year have covered topics from parent-adolescent relations to teenage pregnancy to why Andover High's traditional senior awards banquet will not be held this year.

"Everyone's always complaining about their parents," he said.

So back in December, Lynch wrote his editorial entitled, "The Joys of Parents Are Secret."

"Oftentimes, children do not discuss problems with parents due to fear or to other emotions, but this may also be viewed from the opposite side," he wrote. "Parts sometimes fail to discuss emotional topics with their children. In either case, the relationship is weakened.

Editorial Writer Randy Lynch

"...Sometimes it is difficult to understand them (parents) from our point of view, but have patience."

And quoting Francis Bacon, he concluded, "The joys of parents are secret, and so are their griefs and fears."

This editorial — one of two submitted for the High School Newspaper Contest — was apparently met with high praise by contest judges. But it doesn't necessarily make a student more popular with his peers, according to Lynch.

"Most of the people at school didn't like it," he said. "Kids like to read more about drinking and stuff like that, and they want to hear their point of view. They didn't seem overly pleased about the topic."

Lynch suspected as much ahead of time. "I figured I'd write it anyway," he explained. "You don't read things like that in major daily newspapers."

The high school senior, a member of the National Honor Society and co-organizer of the school's French Club, believes children should greater appreciate their parents.

He noted, "They (children) don't bring up a lot of their problems. They'll talk to anyone, almost, before they talk to their parents."

Lynch doesn't shy away from other issues facing Andover High School students, either.

"In 1979, the number of girls in Andover under the age of 19 who became pregnant rose by 2.9 percent," says his February editorial. "Although this is still rather small as compared to the 21.8 percent increase in neighboring Lawrence and the 11.9 percent jump in Methuen, the problem is still us... This condition could be avoided, yet it still occurs at increasing rates."

Lynch went on to explain the Teen Pregnancy Hotline located at the Andover Public Library. The hotline was started to provide information for pregnant teens and parents. He also listed other organizations that deal with the problem of teenage pregnancy.

"Child neglect and child abuse are much more common with younger parents than with older ones," he wrote. "Teen parents are often forced to drop out of school and support the child, which results in financial difficulties. It is obvious that infants born to teenage parents are disadvantaged in many ways..."

His most recent piece tackled the senior class banquet issue. The event, during which awards and yearbooks are presented, has been cancelled this year.

"...It appears that people came to the dinner (last year) after having consumed alcohol..." Lynch wrote. "This behavior has cost this year's senior class its banquet, a heavy price one must pay for something not one's fault."

He said he is satisfied with the alternative of a morning awards assembly, followed by a brunch for seniors. But he added, "If those under the influence (last year) had been refused admittance... there would have been no problem for us this year."

William Becker, 'The Rock's' student advisor, says there has been no interference with what the students write. The paper is funded in large part by the school committee, while students raise additional monies in advertising.

"I've never encountered censorship," he said. "It's a good climate."

The student publication's name was changed this year to 'The Rock,' in recognition of the large boulder in front of Andover High School which has been used by students through the years as a sort of spray-painted message board of ideas and feelings.

Lynch, who is activities section editor of the yearbook and a member of the math league for three years, did not begin work on 'The Rock' because he plans a career in journalism.

He will study electrical engineering in college.

"It's (the newspaper) just something I got involved in," he said. "I don't think I'm the greatest writer, but I'm not the worst, either."

That's an understatement.

Becker said Lynch will probably be presented his award for editorial writing at the senior awards assembly.

Extended Kindergarten Studied

The Extended Kindergarten Committee has been working to develop an extended program for kindergarten-age children, primarily to fit the needs of working parents. Three possible proposals have been developed and will be discussed at the Pre-Kindergarten Orientation meetings at the elementary schools the week of April 12. Interested parents will be asked to state their preferences, and then the committee will work with the Department of Community Services and the school department to finalize program plans.

Briefly, the three proposals are:

Proposal 1 would involve a full-day space, which would be used by the children for the part of the day they are not in their neighborhood kindergarten class.

Proposal 2 would involve an afternoon program only, with involved children requesting a.m. kindergarten in their neighborhood schools for the whole year.

Proposal 3 would involve a special, separate kindergarten class set up in one of the elementary schools with an extended, after-school component.

The next meeting of the committee will be Monday, May 3, at 8 p.m. at Alice Frieson's house, 9 Wild Rose Drive.

Families Needed For Students

Qualified host families are now being sought for WEST international exchange students. These students will spend one month this summer experiencing the United States with an American family while participating in their daily life.

The World Educational Student Travel program, a non-profit organization, is searching for American families excited by the prospect of sharing their homes with a European exchange student. Host families provide room and board for the student and offer him or her the same guidance and love they give to their own children. By sharing their daily life with a student from another country, the family members will have a unique opportunity to learn about another culture through another person's eyes, while deepening their appreciation of their own country by introducing America to someone new. Families interested in participating in this program can receive more information by contacting their local community representative, JoAnne Quinlan, 124 Old Village Lane, North Andover.

CHIROPRACTIC
FOR BETTER HEALTH

JAMES J. PECK, D.C.

CHIROPRACTOR The Importance of Posture

In my experience as a practicing chiropractor, I have found that physical imbalances due to poor postural habits are evident in ninety-five percent of my first time patients. This is certainly a significant finding and one that merits concern. Poor postural habits include standing with shoulders and head slouched, sitting with legs crossed above the knees, sitting in a slumping posture, and sleeping on your stomach.

Symptoms brought about by poor posture include stiffness of affected area, pain (often times radiating from the affected area along its corresponding nerve tract), sleeping discomforts, headaches, and more.

Therefore, the practice of good posture should be stressed. Chiropractic as a healing science recognizes this and recommends that you have a spinal examination to evaluate your structural balance. The practice of good posture along with moderate exercise, a healthy diet, adequate rest and a healthy emotional outlook all contribute to the good health of an individual.

Call to arrange for a chiropractic consultation and exam.

When coal is burned to drive turbines that generate electricity in a power plant, two-thirds of the energy is wasted as excess heat. A "district heating" system makes use of this heat. St. Paul, Minn., is building an $80 million district heating system for city buildings that will go into operation next fall and will save two million barrels of oil per year, Massachusetts Audubon reports.

Easter Service At UU Church

The Unitarian Universalist Church of Andover has planned a celebrative service to mark the Easter season. Special music will be offered. The choir will sing Randall Thompson's "Alleluiah," and Haydn's "The Heavens Are Telling" from The Creation.

Trio members are Betty Nicholson, soprano; Peter Vail, tenor; Richard Graber, bass. "Fanfare for Flute and Guitar" by Mouret will be performed by Peter Vail and Bill Paterson. Ivar Sjoström is music director.

Rev. Rosemarie C. Smurzynski will preach on "An Easter Faith." This is the second of a two-part series on human liberation and our Judeo-Christian heritage. Last week Rev. Smurzynski spoke on "The Passover Experience."

Children will worship with their parents for the first part of the service, then leave for a program of Easter activity. A breakfast at 9:15 a.m., prepared by the Outreach Committee, will precede the worship service at 10:30 a.m.

The Unitarian Universalist Church of Andover holds its Sunday worship at 6 Locke St., Andover.

Sunrise Service In Vale

The Ballard Vale United Church (United Methodist, United Church of Christ) will sponsor an Easter Sunrise Service at the Reichhold Chemical Plant grounds, 77 Lowell Junction at 6 a.m. followed by a breakfast served at the church building, 23 Clark Road, from 7 a.m. to 9 a.m.

Members of the junior and senior high youth fellowships will help cook and serve the breakfast which will feature scrambled eggs, quiche, bacon, sausage, muffins and beverages. Tickets may be purchased at the door and persons do not have to attend the sunrise service in order to come to breakfast.

The sunrise service, with Easter music, readings and the preaching theme, "Easter Christians," will close with the breaking and sharing of bread in a Love Feast.

The second service of Easter Day will be in the sanctuary at 10 a.m. with a festive family service of Holy Communion. The preaching theme will be "Easter God's Day."

Both these services are open to the public. In case of rain, the sunrise service will be held at the same time, but in the sanctuary of the United Church.

Exhibit

A sculpture exhibit, featuring the work of Carlisle artist Stephen Till, will be on display in the Laura Knott Gallery and several outdoor locations on the Bradford College campus, Bradford, through April 23.

The public overwhelmingly prefers the litter/recycling law alternative, according to a survey by Cambridge Reports Inc. The survey found that 55 percent of the population preferred the alternative while only 31 percent opted for the mandatory deposit law. These comprehensible programs attack all forms of litter through a combination of litter clean up programs, public education, litter law enforcement and recycling incentives.

New Principal At St. Augustine's

Brother Thomas Schady, F.M.S.

St. Augustine's school will have its first male principal with the appointment of Brother Thomas Schady, F.M.S.

Rev. Richard O'Leary, pastor of St. Augustine's parish, announced the appointment this week.

Brother Thomas, a Marist Brother, is a graduate of Marist College, Poughkeepsie, N.Y., with a B.A. degree in English. He has a Master's Degree in Library Science from C.W. Post Center at Long Island University, as well as a Master's Degree in Educational Administration from Manhattan College, Riverdale, N.Y.

Brother Thomas has most recently been administrator of St. John the Evangelist School, Beacon, N.Y. Prior to Beacon, he taught English, Reading and Religion at St. Joseph's School, Kingston, N.Y. and St. Mary's School, Poughkeepsie, N.Y.

Brother Thomas has also had experience in coordinating a senior citizen recreation center in Coldspring, N.Y. and has worked at St. John Bosco Orphanage in Jamaica, West Indies.

Selectmen Give Nod To Tennis Courts

Tennis courts, a master plan and improvements to Haverhill Street will all get the nod from the selectmen at annual town meeting later this month.

During a final review of articles on the town meeting warrant before the Finance Committee's report to voters goes to press, the selectmen voted to recommend approval of articles concerning those three issues.

The selectmen voted unanimously to support Article 45, which calls for a $35,000 appropriation to refurbish the tennis courts at Andover High School and West Junior High. Board members noted that without adequate maintenance, those courts have deteriorated to the point where they are barely usable.

With another unanimous vote, the selectmen agreed to support Article 20, on the appropriation of $150,000 for Chapter 90 highway construction funds. That money would be used to make repairs to Haverhill Street, and the town would later be reimbursed by the state.

And finally, the selectmen voted unanimously to recommend approval of Article 34, which asks voters to appropriate $50,000 to update the town's master plan, last revised in 1965. The Planning Board hopes to revise the plan to help with future comprehensive planning for the town.

In more town meeting preparations, the selectmen will meet at Memorial Hall Library Monday night to lay out a number of streets for town meeting's acceptance. The streets cannot be considered at town meeting if they are not approved by the selectmen next week.

A public hearing will be held on each street under consideration during next week's selectmen's meeting.

Sneak Spring Blizzard Belts Andover; Schools Stay Closed

By Sue Aucella Deacon

It was definitely a sneak attack.

Just as the grass was beginning to show the merest hint of green, just as the robins had returned from their winter retreat, just as efficient motorists had finished removing their snow tires, it hit: the most powerful snow storm of the season.

And the season ended two weeks ago.

Tuesday's genuine blizzard, with its high winds and 15 inches of heavy snow, set new records for cold and snowfall in April. It also shut down schools and businesses, postponed opening day at northeastern ball parks, and made springtime seem more distant than ever—even though Easter Sunday was only four days away.

It was the fiercest storm New England has seen since early December—the fiercest, in fact, that most people can remember since the famous Blizzard of '78.

Blowing snow caused slippery roads and extremely poor visibility throughout the day, making both walking and driving difficult and dangerous. But the Police Department encountered no more than the usual quota of fender-benders, and no serious accidents. Lt. Hector Pattullo reported yesterday.

"It was just a routine storm. No major problems," Pattullo explained.

Deputy Fire Chief Harold Wright also had good news of no fires or serious incidents during the storm.

"We've been lucky, it's been quiet," Wright said. "Just a few ambulance calls. Some of our older residents should go a little easier on the snow shoveling—they can get themselves in trouble," he noted.

Like many local businesses, Andover schools closed early Tuesday afternoon (at noon for the secondary schools and an hour later for the elementary schools), and remained closed yesterday.

After spending three hours driving to all the schools yesterday, Supt. Dr. Kenneth Seifert said he decided to "play it safe" and keep the schools closed today as well.

Although it was a close decision, he said driving conditions were slippery, and it seemed unlikely that sidewalks would be cleared today. The fact that Friday would be a no-school day anyway (Good Friday) helped make up his mind.

The three snow days will now bring the last day of school up to Wednesday, June 23.

Dr. Seifert commended the school bus drivers for doing "a very, very fine job" in getting everybody home safely Tuesday afternoon. The last loads of elementary youngsters were picked up at 2:30, and many bus drivers were still on the road past 3:30, the superintendent said.

The snow was already falling steadily during the morning rush hour Tuesday. Public Works Director Robert McQuade said yesterday he had crews out plowing at 9 a.m. Tuesday, "and we've been going ever since."

There was little use in sanding or salting with snow blowing all over the road, so the crews held mainly to plowing, he explained. After the storm had ended yesterday, the plows were still out "chasing drifts through the wind," McQuade said he expected his plows to remain on the road most of Wednesday night.

Neither snow nor wind stepped mail delivery Tuesday, according to the postmaster. "Most of our carriers completed their routes yesterday," he said Wednesday, "and they're all out on the road today. All of our first-class mail will be delivered."

However, the storm did have some effect on mail delivery, because no first-class mail was sent to Andover from the postal center in Woburn Wednesday morning, the postmaster added. Only third-class mail arrived in Andover Wednesday

Will Seek State Rep. Position

Susan Tucker

Susan Tucker has announced her candidacy for State Representative from the 17th Essex District. A long-time resident of Andover, Mrs. Tucker serves Andover on the Development and Industrial Commission, as well as the Industrial Development Financing Authority.

Presently she is employed at the State House as assistant to Rep. Walter Bickford (D) from the 2nd Middlesex district.

Mrs. Tucker is a former president of the Andover League of Women Voters and vice president of the Massachusetts L.W.V. As one of the founders of the Central Business District Committee, she has been actively involved in the issues which have surfaced with Andover's growth.

A magna cum laude graduate of Michigan State University, Mrs. Tucker has done graduate work in public policy at Suffolk University. She taught English in the Lexington secondary schools and briefly at West Junior High in Andover.

In announcing her intent, Mrs. Tucker said, "My candidacy is a natural extension of years of interest and involvement in local and state government. I am looking forward to meeting area residents and listening to their concerns."

Mrs. Tucker resides at 6 Farrwood Drive with her husband, Mike, and two children, Mark and David.

The Public Forum

Representative Town Meeting

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

Again, those who voted March 22 have instructed all town officials and employees that the local government spends too much. It is hoped that all concerned abide by the request, twice made.

Because, say 80 percent of local government costs are for wages and salaries, an effective place to work is to adjust them in accordance with dropping inflation. Just as they were moved up as inflation increased, now seems to be the time to move them down.

Noting that Andover has a fire department of over 65 members, it would seem that a large part of the cost of this department should be charged to industry by way of, say a $1,000,000 service fee apportioned among those premises that enjoy water sprinkler systems against fire and which substantially cut their fire insurance rates.

Next, because industry makes town streets unsafe for people use morning and night, there being few sidewalks, industry should be called upon to provide say $4,000,000 over the next three years so that sidewalks can be built within two miles of each school building.

The office of selectmen and management has expressly stated each time it favored more industry that this would more than pay for itself and all the additional services and wear and tear it would cause. But to date, there is much evidence that these have failed to pay their way. Certainly, they have not paid for the new sidewalks that are so lacking.

In addition to the message that those who vote want less money spent, may be the message that the office of selectmen was wrong in not classifying property so as to afford industry an opportunity to pay its fair share of the added costs it is imposing upon Andover as well as decreasing its quality of life.

It is hoped also at the coming town meeting we shall have no more of the tactic of asking 1,000 voters or less to override all the others not in attendance. It is idle to say that the voters should be present to protect their interests because the town could not accommodate even a fifth of the voters if that many tried to attend a town meeting.

All of the above suggests that it is far too late in the day for Andover to cling to the outmoded democratic town meeting. It should move ahead into the improvements afforded by adopting a republican form of government by which is meant the plan of representative town meeting. It opens a different prospect and promises the cure for the extremes that are a notorious aspect of democratic town meeting, Andover style.

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

We would like to thank many people, organizations and institutions for supporting our gifted and talented social studies program this year. Debbie Brent, Dino Valz and Norma Gammon each volunteered a morning's time to share their knowledge and experience with us. We enjoyed our tours of the Customs House and Peabody Museum in Salem. There are many forms of litter on the nation's highways and byways. They include fast-food wrappings, plastics, paper and styrofoam cups, cigarette packages and filters, automobile parts, snackfoods, beverage cans and bottles. Yet, bottles and cans—the only target of mandatory deposit laws—represent only 20 to 25 percent of the total litter.

Down The Years With The Townsman

75 Years Ago — March 1907

Superintendent of Streets Milo H. Gould wishes to notify the farmers in the outlying districts who have broken out the roads after snow storms during past years, that he wishes them to continue, if occasion requires, for the remainder of the season.

The factory of Tyer Rubber company was closed all day Monday to allow the employees to attend Town meeting.

The local fire department was called out by a still alarm to the tenement house in Abbott Village Centre on Monday afternoon where a chimney fire was in progress. The ladder truck was sent to the scene and by the use of chemicals the fire was soon extinguished.

One of the quietest Town meetings for years, and one in which very little debate occurred, tells the story of last Monday's annual meeting. If there is any criticism that is pertinent in this connection, it is that the meeting was altogether too quiet, many of the articles receiving entirely inadequate discussion for the real information of the citizens.

The election of town officers resulted in several surprises. The greatest surprise was the defeat of Supt. Lovejoy, yet those who are conversant with town matters have appreciated that considerable sentiment existed against him. Mr. Gould is a clean, alert and able man. He has yet to prove his worth as an executive, and he begins in a position that will severely test his qualities.

50 Years Ago — March 1932

Despite rain, snow and cold weather, the largest vote in the history of the town elections in Andover was cast Monday, re-electing Frank H. Hardy to the boards of selectmen and assessors for another three years in the greatest victory of his political career.

It cost the town of Andover $433.50 in salaries to register voters for the election last Monday and to man the polls in four precincts with officials to take care of election day. This money was divided among 51 men. It is by no means the total cost of running the election, but figures are not available on the cost of printing the town warrant, and other incidental details.

In its first report to the Andover Taxpayer's Association, the president and directors of the Andover Taxpayer's Association calls upon the property taxpayers to work for a tax rate below $21 per thousand at next Monday's town meeting. Included in the report is a statement that the association has been assured by the Board of Selectmen that a substantial reduction in the tax valuation is likely.

The apparent wide-spread popularity of the several so-called comic magazines which have recently appeared on the market indicates a moronic sense of humor and lack of good taste on the part of a large percentage of our population which is, to say the least, deplorable.

25 Years Ago — March 1957

A meagre eight percent of the registered voters spent $2,482,168 at town meeting Saturday, adding an estimated $4.47 to the tax rate. A peak of 783 voters took part in the meeting, although only 618 were present when the meeting opened and began discussing the annual budgets.

Andover may have its dial system in operation by late summer of 1958. Frank Desmond, manager of the Lawrence Telephone company office, confirmed this week that a $1,250,000 project will begin here this spring on land on Elm street.

Work on Route 28 in Andover may well be completed by the fall of 1959. An official of the State Department of Public Works told the TOWNSMAN this week that bids will be advertised this year on all sections of the road here, as well as the bridges spanning the new highway.

A stronger bylaw governing the use of gravel pits will be submitted to the May special town meeting. Sidney P. White, chairman of the selectmen, emphatically told a worried resident, Arthur W. Smith of Rattlesnake Hill road, that complete control of the pits will be sought.

10 Years Ago — March 1972

A professional building to be located in a rezoned section of land off Haverhill and High streets will be favored by the planning board at town meeting, while a revised proposal to rezone land off Lowell street for condominiums will once again be denied by the planners.

Alan F. French, 17 Moreland Ave., was elected selectman and William L. Lane, 154 High Plain Road, chosen school committeeman in Monday's annual town election, in what was the lowest voter turnout in many years. With 4,000 votes cast out of possible 12,000, election officials completed the tabulation of ballots in a record 48 minutes.

The school committee put new member William Lane to work less than 24 hours after his election. The new committeeman pledged his all-out efforts toward the success of Article 47 at the outset of an earnest and amiable meeting Tuesday. Object of the meeting was to hasten procedures in the plans of Article 47's intent — the joint renovation of Doherty and Shawsheen Schools.

Sacred Heart School in Shawsheen will become the single school serving students of junior high school age, according to an announcement by Brother Richard Casavant, S.C., director of education for New England schools owned and operated by the Brothers of the Sacred Heart of the New England province. The Andover school will have a slightly higher enrollment as the result of the merging of Sacred Heart School in Sharon and Sacred Heart Preparatory School in Pascoag, R.I., into the single institution.

Becoming Punting Specialist

David Nardone

David Nardone, son of Philip A. Nardone, 3 Willow Way, Andover, is being tutored by Dr. Edward J. Storey, noted kicking authority in Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

Nardone, who was a member of the Golden Warriors in the late 70s and went to Maine as a scholarship kicker and defensive back, has decided to pursue his career as a punter. He left the University of Maine where he played with distinction as a freshman, to seek a place on a football team where he could just punt. He selected "Doc" Storey as his tutor and went to Florida.

His progress has been so rapid that he was discovered by the football scouts at the University of Florida and will enter there in the fall. He will have to sit out one year and will then join the team in 1983. His first game as punter will be the Florida U.S.C. game in the Coliseum in Los Angeles.

The University of Florida coaching staff are excited at having a punter with his capabilities.

He has daily workouts by kicking 250 balls per day. For some punters this would be "out of the world" but for Nardone, this is just the order of the day. Progress in any sport depends on the number of repetitions. Nardone is going to get those repetitions and expects to have 6,000 before he enrolls at the university in August.

Dr. Storey says, "David is the finest punter that he has ever taught and expects that he will go from college to the pros." Nardone may be one of the few pro kickers who has the basic fundamentals to carry him to stardom.

Farnham Lacrosse Candidate

Junior midfielder Paul Farnham of Andover was involved in pre-season workouts with the 1982 Brown University men's lacrosse team.

The Bruins are coming off a 6-6 record in 1981 and rank as a dark-horse threat in the race for the Ivy League title. The Bruins lost heavily through graduation, but Head Coach Cliff Stevenson has a number of fine freshmen and sophomore hopefuls ready to step in and fill the gaps.

Last year was only the second lacrosse season ever for Farnham. He appeared in every game while running on the defensive midfield unit and played exceptionally well winning the team's "Most Improved Player" award. A two-year letterman in football, Farnham injured his knee towards the end of last season and this may prevent him from gaining a spot on the first midfield. An outstanding all-around athlete, he ranks as the fastest player on the team. His brothers, Bob and Mark, were nationally recognized performers in both football and lacrosse.

Farnham won three letters each in football, track and hockey while attending Andover High School. He was an All-Scholastic choice in football and track and was named the Most Valuable Performer of each team as a senior.

A major in sociology, Farnham is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Farnham, 122 Chestnut St., Andover.

Squirt A's in First Place

The Andover Squirt A's increased their first place lead in Danvers League to three points with two straight wins.

Andover 5 - Lynn 1

Andover scored three unanswered goals in the first period and for all intents and purposes, the game was over. Matt Pothier, assists to Duke McNamara and David Sopp, put Andover ahead 1-0 when he slipped the puck under Lynn's goalie with just two minutes gone in the first period. For the next eight minutes, both teams played wide open hockey but neither team could score. Finally, Andover scored two quick goals near the end of the period, which completely frustrated Lynn. Brent Raftery and Matt Pothier set up McNamara, who fired a low shot into the corner. Then Pothier intercepted a clearing, skated in all alone and beat the Lynn goalie for a 3-0 lead at the end of the first period.

In the second period, play got a little chippy. Lynn was called for four penalties and Andover was assessed three. Midway through the period, Lynn scored to narrow the Andover lead to two goals. However, this was to be their only score as Mike Murnane and Timmy Lane shut them out for the rest of the game.

On defense, Steve McSweeney, Kenny Leng, John Gilmartin and Todd Roycroft were equal to the challenge. They broke up plays at the blue line and would not let Lynn penetrate the Andover zone. Lynn's total frustration as never more evident than in the third period. They were assessed six penalties, two of which ended up in Andover goals. Gary Bleszinski, Michael Tiberii and Glen Driscoll were a going concern all night, but could not score. Andover's last two goals were scored by Glenn Farnham. The first goal was set up by Brent Raftery and McSweeney and the second goal was the result of good passing by McNamara and Raftery.

Andover 4 - Ipswich 3

This game brought out the best in this Andover team. Their never-say-die attitude, their hustle and perseverance were rewarded with a win. Down 2-0 and 3-1, they never gave up. Ipswich jumped out to a quick two-goal lead and seemed to have everything going their way. Andover just couldn't seem to get things going. Finally, Andover got a break when David Sopp intercepted a pass at center ice and fed a nice pass to Duke McNamara, who slipped the puck under the Ipswich goalie for Andover's first goal. The period ended with Ipswich leading 2-1, although Andover had a 6-5 edge in shots on goal.

The second period had plenty of excitement as both teams moved the puck well.

About three minutes into the period, Ipswich picked up a loose puck, skated in unmolested for an easy goal and a 3-1 lead. Little did they know that they would only get one more shot on net for the rest of the game. Andover's defense, John Gilmartin, Kenny Leng, Todd Roycroft and Steve McSweeney, along with goalies, Timmy Lane and Mike Murnane, were just super for the rest of the game.

The line of Gary Bleszinski, Michael Tiberii and Matt Pothier did everything but score. Bleszinski and Tiberii each had good scoring chances, but just couldn't beat the Ipswich goalie. However, constant hustle and good forechecking finally paid dividends. Brent Raftery, assists to Glen Driscoll and Glenn Farnham, scored Andover's second goal when he fired a high shot into the corner. Andover was fired up. They relentlessly forechecked and backchecked all over the ice. Once again, this constant pressure forced an Ipswich mistake and Andover's third goal. Matt Adams stole the puck from Ipswich's defense, slipped a nice pass to David Sopp, who jammed the puck between the goalie's pads to tie the game at three all. Andover had outshot Ipswich seven to two in the period.

The third period was all Andover. With first place at stake, the boys went all out. They wanted this game and were determined to win. Throughout the period, Andover did everything but score. They kept Ipswich pinned in their own zone for almost the whole period, but had nothing to show for it. With less than a minute to play and the ensuing faceoff in the Ipswich end, Andover put five forwards on the ice in an all-out, last-ditch effort to score. From the faceoff, the puck went into the far corner. Pothier dug it out of the corner and fed Raftery a perfect pass, which he quickly turned into a goal and a 4-3 Andover lead.

When the game ended the Andover players mobbed the goalies and each other. This hard-fought victory might just have clinched first place for the team.

All Stars Gain Another Title

By Rick Harrison

Another tournament championship and another berth in a tournament title game highlighted yet another busy weekend for the Andover All-Stars basketball teams who competed in Wakefield, Lexington and Lawrence.

The championship was earned by the Andover All-Star 9th graders, who drilled Malden 60-47 in the final game at the Wakefield Invitational Tournament.

The championship final berth belongs to the Andover 7th graders, as they slugged St. Monica's of Methuen 66-48 in the semifinal round of the Lawrence Jewish Community Center Tournament.

The 7th graders also lost out in their bid for the Wakefield Tournament crown, bowing to a talented Quincy squad 69-59 in the title game.

The combined Andover All-Stars 8th and 9th grade team advanced to the quarterfinal round of the Lexington Invitational Tournament at the Hayden Recreation Center, nudging Orchard Park of Roxbury 75-73 in its opening test there.

The final game in a 3-2 weekend saw the Andover All-Stars combined freshman-sophomore crew run up against the Arlington Flyers' juggernaut in the Lexington Tournament, dropping a lopsided 92-35 decision in the quarterfinals.

Andover All-Star teams have now won 51 tournament games and eight championships over the last three years, and they have also reached the title game on four other occasions (twice losing by a point and once by two points).

The Andover 8th-9th graders faced Crowley's of Arlington in the Lexington quarterfinals last night, while the 7th graders chase the JCC Tournament title this Saturday against the Lawrence Boys' Club.

Andover 9th All-Stars

The Andover 9th graders, under the direction of George Sullivan and John Sheehan, added Malden to their list of Wakefield Tournament victims which included Wakefield (75-39) and Everett (see below) in earlier action.

The champs started fast, grabbing an early 10-point lead, and Malden never presented a really serious challenge thereafter.

Andover enjoyed a 27-18 halftime cushion. Nine different players entered the scoring act for Andover, whose balanced assault was led by Bill Weidman with 12 points.

Craig Hammond chipped in 9 points and solid work off the boards, while Dan Carignan netted 8 points and Bill Lane tossed through 7.

Tom Lutz, Tim Reilly and Tim Perry swished 6 points apiece, Paul Lambers pumped through 4, and Dan Sheehan added a bucket and some outstanding defensive play throughout the contest.

In previous years basically the same Andover team had won the Mt. Wachusett Community College and Greater-Lawrence Invitational Tournaments, while also battling to the championship final of the Greater-Boston Pre-Teen Tournament (44-42 loss to Newton).

Andover 7th All-Stars

Andover placed three players in double figures enroute to its 66-48 triumph over Methuen in the semifinals of the Lawrence JCC tournament.

Methuen bolted to a quick 6-0 lead in the opening quarter, but Andover recovered in time to take a commanding 21-12 lead after one period.

The locals expanded their edge to 42-29 at halftime, and the lead fluctuated between nine and 20 points throughout the second half.

John Perry was game-high marksman with 25 points, while Steve Redgate and Chris Colsia added 13 points apiece.

Completing the attack were Kurt Burzlaff with 7 points, Tim Boudreau 4 and Chris Poor 4.

Redgate, Colsia and Burzlaff again did yeoman work off the boards, while other standouts were Nick Coon, Pete Derba, John Twomey and Mike Lane.

Andover converted 22-of-33 free throws, with Perry hitting 11-of-13 and Colsia 7-of-11.

Frank Cyr netted 17 points for Methuen, while Mark Jalbert and Bruce Tulley added 10 points each.

The ending was not as happy in Wakefield, as Andover suffered the worst defeat of its two-year existence (69-59) at the hands of a quick Quincy crew.

Quincy, which had won the tournament's 6th grade division last year, used a 12-2 burst over the final two minutes of the opening half to establish its lead.

Andover, which has won both the Athol and Greater-Boston Pre-Teen Tournaments this Spring, played almost flawless two-way basketball for the first 12 minutes as it maintained a 22-18 lead over Quincy.

But that 12-2 run late in the second quarter gave the eventual champs a 30-24 halftime edge, and the lead swelled to 13 points (52-39) in the third quarter before Andover mounted a mild challenge in the final period.

Andover was able to contain the Quincy fast break for much of the game, but after some early difficulties the winners effectively solved Andover's full-court press for some easy buckets.

Awarded Letter

Gilman F. Eaton, of Andover, co-captain of the ski team at Bowdoin College, was among the recipients of a letter for varsity participation with the 12-member team this past winter.

John Perry once again led Andover with 23 points, including 9-of-12 at the free throw line, while Kurt Burzlaff pocketed 11 points and pulled down seven rebounds.

Steve Redgate, Chris Colsia and Jeff Smith contributed 8 points apiece, with Redgate adding 10 rebounds (six offensive).

John Twomey had a free throw, while other hustling performances came from Chris Poor, Tim Boudreau, Nick Coon, Pete Derba and Mike Lane.

Brian Shaughnessy and Dave Britt led what was basically a two-man offensive show for Quincy, as Shaughnessy pouring through 32 points and Britt 17.

Andover 8th-9th All-Stars

Andover and Orchard Park of West Roxbury engaged in a shootout that was close from opening tap to final buzzer, as neither team was able to open more than a five point lead throughout the contest.

Orchard Park led 17-16 after one quarter and 32-30 at halftime, but Andover inched ahead 49-47 after three periods.

The Roxbury team started fast in the final period, opening a five point lead at one time, but Andover refused to die and the locals eventually pulled even with less than two minutes to play at 66-66.

Dan Sheehan, whose accuracy at the free throw line was the final difference, then hit 5-of-6 foul shots without interruption to give Andover a 71-66 advantage with less than one minute to go.

Orchard Park battled back to 71-70, and with seven seconds left Andover was clinging to a slim 73-71 advantage.

Tim Perry was fouled at 0:06, he swished the two clutch free throws, and Roxbury hit an uncontested lay-up at the buzzer for the final 75-73 score.

Tim Perry led all marksmen with 28 points. Sheehan added 17 including a superb 11-for-13 at the free throw line in the final period.

Joe Hart had 12 points and four blocked shots, while Bill Lane was also in double figures with 10 points.

Steve Gemmell contributed 4 points, Chris Bartley and Larry Aiello had important buckets, and Beau Jones played a solid all-around game for Andover.

Travis Petus and Brian Baker pumped through 20 points apiece for Roxbury, while Bobby Brown delivered 14.

Andover 6th All-Stars

The Andover sixth graders, who hammered the Bradford Bobcats 36-16 in the opening round of the St. Augustine's Tournament, swamped Hampstead, N.H. 48-11 in the second round.

The locals bolted to a 14-3 first period lead and coasted from there, building the spread to a prohibitive 26-4 by halftime.

Mike Lane paced the balanced 11-player assault with 10 points, while John Perry added 9 and Matt Gibson 8.

Pat Kelley and Josh Malitsky netted four points each, Joey Tavilla three and single baskets were swished by Dave Vickers, Bill O'Brien, Scott Wallace, Greg DeVoir and John "Cornbread" Glynn.

Jeff Newman hooped six points to pace Hampstead.

Andover became embroiled in a pulsating thriller against St. Joseph's of Salem, N.H., finally pulling out a 31-30 decision in their quarterfinal round contest.

A 9-4 second quarter spurt gave Andover a slim 17-14 halftime lead, which it protected throughout a tense second half that saw the teams separated by no more than three points the whole way.

Mike Lane eventually tossed through the clutch game-winning bucket, and some heads-up coaching strategy initiated by Bill Gibson in the closing 10 seconds preserved the win.

Perry led the Andover offense with 14 points, Lane added 8, Matt Gibson 4, Bill O'Brien 2, John Glynn a pair of free throws, and Dave Vickers a single foul shot.

Contributing some solid defensive play down the stretch were Scott Wallace, Gibson, Vickers and Lane.

Joe McLaughlin took game-high scoring honors for St. Joseph's with 21 points, including a fantastic 9-for-10 from the charity stripe.

The Andover team, whose only loss this season had come when Perry and Lane were elsewhere, dropped their first game while at full strength as the North Andover Boosters slapped the locals 33-23 in the semifinals at the Kane School gym.

North Andover threw up a nearly impenetrable 2-3 zone that limited Andover to one shot almost every time down the floor. The eventual tourney champions grabbed a 16-7 halftime lead, but it was still anyone's game after three periods as Perry, Lane and Matt Gibson keyed a 10-5 run to cut the deficit to 21-17.

John Fitzgibbons, Chip Dunn and Andy Brockmire pumped through four points each in the fourth quarter for NA, and the only answering fire mustered by Andover were four points by Mike Lane and two from Dave Vickers.

Lane and Perry shared team-high point honors for Andover with eight each, while other buckets were distributed among Scott Wallace, Gibson and Vickers.

Greg DeVoir swished a free throw to complete the offense.

Fitzgibbons led all marksmen with 11 points for NA, Brockmire popped in 9 and Winn Matthews notched 7.

Andover withstood a furious fourth quarter rally to edge Old Methuen Realty 39-35 in the consolation game for third place.

The locals inched ahead 14-12 after one quarter, then rode some eagle-eye free throw shooting by Lane and some tenacious defense to a commanding 26-12 halftime advantage.

Andover enjoyed a seemingly comfortable 33-18 edge after three periods, but Old Methuen Realty stormed back to make it interesting with a 17-6 fourth quarter surge.

Vickers led 10 players into the scoring column with 10 points, Gibson swished 8, Lane 7, Josh Malitsky 4 and Joey Tavilla 3.

Kelley and Wallace contributed field goals, while single free throws came from Tom Sheehan, Greg DeVoir and Bill O'Brien.

Paul Keyes pumped in 10 points for Old Methuen Realty.

Mike Lane was named to the All-Tournament team, while additional All-Star selections were Matt Gibson, Dave Vickers and Scott Wallace.

Andover 8th All-Stars

The Andover eighth graders had an interesting stay in New Bedford, playing two excellent games against a pair of strong teams in the more competitive half of the tournament bracket.

In the quarterfinal contest against the all and physical Faunce Corner Club of Brockton, an All-Star team drawn from several cities and towns, the rivals traded leads several times in the opening half before Brockton assumed a slim 22-19 advantage by intermission.

The teams remained within one basket of each other throughout most of the second half, but a late Brockton rally enabled that team to take a 35-28 lead with just over two minutes left to play.

Andover, which had a slight edge in quickness, began to take advantage behind a stifling full-court man-to-man press that initiated several Faunce turnovers.

Chris Bartley hit several key swishes from the outside, while Joe Hart worked well inside, sparking a clutch 8-0 Andover rally over the final two minutes.

The locals survived some poor foul shooting in the final minute, when they could have iced the game and eventually it was a free throw by Hart that provided the margin of victory.

Bartley finished with 12 points, Joe Hart netted 11, Doug Rotondi notched his 9 points in the opening half, and Beau Jones flipped through 4 points.

Also playing well were Steve Gemmell, Larry Aiello and Rob DiTroia.

Andover had its hands full in the semifinals with the New Bedford Boys' Club, which combined decent size with outstanding quickness at the guard positions enroute to its 34-31 victory.

NBBC, which also draws its players from several different cities and towns, went back-and-forth with the locals from opening tap to final buzzer.

There were 11 different lead changes throughout the game, and the biggest advantage for either club was four points.

After New Bedford took the lead late in the contest it slowed the pace, and the winner's quickness was such that Andover had extreme difficulty fouling the guards down the stretch.

Their ball-handling skill and elusiveness wasted precious time during the final two minutes.

Also hurting the Andover All-Stars' cause was the early exit of Doug Rotondi, who finished as game-high scorer with 14 points and game-high rebounder with 13 boards prior to fouling out.

Chris Bartley contributed 8 points, Joe Hart 8 and Beau Jones a free throw, while other standouts were Steve Gemmell, Scott Wilkins, Larry Aiello and Rob DiTroia.

Bartley was selected to the Tournament All-Star team.

Andover 9th All-Stars

The Andover All-Star freshmen taught the Everett Rats a lesson in the Wakefield Invitational Tournament semifinals, battling back from a 32-22 halftime deficit to post a 61-52 victory.

Andover, which drubbed Wakefield 75-39 in the quarterfinals with a superb second-half showing, fell victim to Everett's red-hot outside shooting in the first half of the semifinal contest.

However, the locals began chipping away in the third period behind the shooting of Tim Perry and Bill Weidman.

Andover eventually caught and passed the Rats in the final three minutes, using a series of steals off the pressure defense by Dan Sheehan and Perry to turn the game around for good.

Everett began fouling in the final minute and Andover hit the shots with professional regularity.

Perry, who produced 37 points in the game against Wakefield, added 21 more here.

Weidman, Tom Lutz and Sheehan were also in double figures while Craig Hammond, Lutz and Weidman held their own under the boards.

Other standouts were Paul Lambers, Chris Comparato, Tim Reilly and Dan Carignan.

The Andover All-Stars' freshman-sophomore crew survived a dogfight with the South Boston Boys Club in round one at the Lexington Invitational, hanging tough for a 62-57 triumph.

Practically the entire contest was played with just a two-point spread either way, although Andover did inch ahead 33-29 at halftime and held a brief eight-point advantage (43-35) midway through the third period before South Boston came storming back.

Andover was in foul trouble the whole way, drawing almost twice as many personals as SBBC. When the game ended one starter had fouled out and four others were saddled with four personals.

Andover's superior depth was the final difference, as the team balance paid large dividends.

South Boston led by a single point three times in the fourth period. Craig Hammond hit a basket with 1:30 to play, putting the locals ahead to stay, and Tom Lutz swished several clutch free throws in 1-and-1 situations down the stretch.

Danvers League Mites

Andover 9 - Haverhill 5

The Mites ended regular season play last Saturday with a convincing victory over Haverhill. The win completed a run of eight games undefeated, in which time the side collected 15 of a maximum 16 points. The run was necessary, for the team appears to have clinched a playoff berth with only one point to spare.

Brian Lane and Sean Darwin led the way last Saturday, each scoring a hat trick. Colin Nix (two) and Bobby Nakasone also got goals and Stephen Neal and Kevin Smith assists. Their work was made easier by teammates whose consistent skating off the puck opened up ice space for others. In defense, only two goals were conceded in the first two periods, by which time the game seemed won. Things became rather more ragged in the final period, but Haverhill never really threatened to catch up. Kevin Lane, in goal again, had another very sound game.

It is now everyone's hope that the team can extend its unbeaten run to ten games in playoff action over the next two weeks. All the players can do is take one game at a time and do their very best. They can show, too, that good sportsmanship matters most, whoever wins the games.

Squirt A

Andover 8 - Ipswich 8

Offense was the name of the game. Neither team played well in their own zone and the result was plenty of scoring. Andover opened the scoring just ten seconds into the game when Brent Raftery, assist to John Gilmartin, slid the puck by a startled Ipswich goalie. About two minutes later, Andover scored again when Matt Adams, assists to Dukie McNamara and Gary Bleszinski, banged home a rebound from in front of the net. Ipswich then scored two quick goals to tie the game and the scoring rampage was under way. Michael Tiberii, assists to Glenn Farnham and Raftery, put Andover up 3-2. Adams, assist to Matt Pothier, scored his second goal of the period, which ended with Andover leading 4-2.

The second period was no different from the first. Both teams had numerous scoring chances and only the fine goaltending of Mike Murnane kept Andover in the game. Ipswich scored to bring them within one. Once again Andover answered when Raftery, assist to Todd Roycroft, turned the defense and fired a high shot past the Ipswich goalie. Both teams again traded goals as Adams, assist to McNamara, scored his third goal of the game (hat trick). The period ended with Andover leading 6-4.

Andover had only 11 players for this game and seemed somewhat tired in the final period. Late in the period, Andover had a two-goal lead 8-6, thanks to goals by Steve McSweeney, assists to McNamara and Adams, and Bleszinski, assist to Driscoll. It looked like Andover would hold on for the win but Ipswich scored twice in the last two minutes and the game ended in a tie.

Wilmington League Andover - Lawrence 1

These two teams had played twice before with Andover winning 2-1 and 5-3. This game was no different from the other two, with Andover coming on strong in the late stages to cement the win. Andover scored the only goal of the first period when Matt Pothier tole the puck near center ice, raced in all alone and faked the goalie for a 1-0 lead. Both teams had some good scoring chances but good goaltending was the key. Timmy Lane and Mike Murnane played very well in the Andover net. On defense Chip Stella, Todd Roycroft, John Gilmartin, Kenny Leng and Steve McSweeney did a fine job. Late in the second period, Andover put on some heavy ressure, resulting in two quick goals from which Lawrence never recovered. First Glenn Farnham, assists to Brent Raftery and Steve McSweeney, drove a low shot into the corner this score was quickly followed by another as David Sopp, assist to Dukie McNamara, fired a wristshot into the net and a 3-1 Andover lead.

In the final period, Andover was really moving the puck. Gary Bleszinski and Michael Tiberii had a few good scoring chances, only to be denied by the Lawrence goalie. However, the line of David Sopp, Matt Adams and Dukie McNamara would not be denied. Sopp banged in a rebound after some fine behind-the-net passing by Adams and McNamara. Andover's fifth and final goal was scored by Raftery, assist to Glen Driscoll.

Andover 1 - Reading 4

This was a lot closer than the score. Midway through the game the score was tied at 1-1, with Andover not capitalizing on quite a few scoring chances. Both teams enjoyed good goaltending and fine defensive play.

For Andover, Mike Murnane and Timmy Lane played very well in net while John Gilmartin, Steve McSweeney, Chip Stella, Kenny Leng and Todd Roycroft did a good job on defense.

During the course of the game, the Reading goalie stopped four out of five Andover breakaways. Only Brent Raftery, who put two super moves on the goalie, would not be denied.

Everyone for Andover played super—Glenn Farnham, Glen Driscoll, David Sopp, Matt Adams, Dukie McNamara, Gary Bleszinski, Matt Pothier and Michael Tiberii. It was just one of those games when the puck just won't go into the net.

Squirt B's Resume Winning Ways

Andover's Squirt B hockey team has begun to win again after the three week slump which followed the team's District II Tournament play. Andover, a decided underdog, finished as tournament runner-up. Their two victories last weekend respectively moved them into third place and a playoff position in the Danvers League and solidly into the middle of the 23-team Wilmington League. The B's overall record now stands at 23-32-7 after a 1-9-1 start.

Andover 3 - Danvers 2

Defenseman Jimmy Morris was the hero of the Danvers win on Saturday, scoring on a hard slapshot from the point with one second left in the game. Derek Camarota won the faceoff and fed Morris a nice pass to set up the score.

The game did not begin well for Andover, as Danvers scored on a rebound less than two minutes into the first period. Andover then had several chances to score, particularly when Danny Surdam, Bryan Smith and Timmy Sullivan were out, but the Danvers goalie came up with good saves. Matt Tanner and Todd Allard's fine defensive play kept Danvers off the scoreboard for the rest of the period.

Danvers scored a second goal three minutes into the second period, once again on a rebound after Michelle DiStefano had made an excellent save. Andover then came to life, as Eddie Chaisson netted a breakaway goal to make it 2-1 after a good lead pass from Derek Camarota. Michael DiStefano and Randy Moreau then combined on several good plays to keep the offensive pressure on, but good goaltending kept Danvers in the lead.

Chaisson's second goal tied it up at 2-2 four minutes into the third period as he again converted a good feed from Camarota after Jonathan Shine had broken up a Danvers two-on-one deep in the Andover zone. The play went back and forth until the last second when Jimmy Morris's heroics gave Andover a well deserved victory.

Andover 7 - Somerville 0

Andover skated to a fairly easy 7-0 victory on Sunday, as goalie Michelle DiStefano came up with enough difficult saves to earn her fifth shutout of the season. The team played with a full compliment of 13 players for the first time in weeks and each one contributed to the win, with eight different players earning at least one point via a goal or an assist.

Timmy Sullivan, Michael DiStefano and Derek Camarota scored the first period goals for Andover, with Camarota, Bryan Smith and Randy Moreau picking up assists. Somerville's few rushes were handled well by defensemen Matt Tanner and Todd Allard and by DiStefano's reliable goaltending.

Winds, Danny Surdam and John Constantine, were robbed in the early going of the second period before Eddie Chaisson's breakaway goal and Moreau's goal off a nice feed by defenseman Jonathan Shine made it 5-0 Andover.

Their sixth goal came three minutes into the third period when Shine fed Chaisson in the slot after taking a feed at the point from Camarota. Camarota scored Andover's final goal two minutes later when Jimmy Morris sent him in on a breakaway. The game ended with Andover continuously pressuring the Somerville goalie.

St. Robert's Finishes Undefeated

St. Robert's B closed its season undefeated with a hard-fought 41-34 triumph over St. Robert's C in Andover Church Basketball League Senior Division action recently.

In other games, St. Robert's A eased past West Parish 35-18. Christ Church trimmed Ballardvale United B 21-8. Temple Emanuel edged St. Augustine's A 21-19, while St. Augustine's B overpowered Ballardvale United A 70-21.

The results, with two games remaining, left St. Robert's B at 10-0, St. Augustine's B finishing one game behind at 9-1, and Temple Emanuel clinching third place with a 7-3 record.

St. Robert's B, 41-34

St. Robert's C, sparked by guard Scott White, gave St. Robert's B all it could handle before the new champs chalked up this win.

The B team moved to a 10-6 first quarter lead, remained ahead 18-14 at halftime, stretched it to 31-24 after three quarters, and then the intra-church rivals split 20 points down the middle in the fourth stanza.

Charis Arserio and Billy Depe powered the victor's offense with 10 points apiece, Bob Dziadosz netted 7, Chris Chinchillo 6, Joey Vecchi 3, Kevin Byrne 3 and Jerry Hand 2.

Scott White was game-high for the C team with 14 points, Mike Griffin also hit double figures with 10 points, John Williams chipped in 5, Billy Dutton 4 and Dave McDonough converted a free throw.

Christ, 21-8

Christ Church took a 7-2 first quarter lead and then increased it slowly but surely. It was 11-4 at halftime, 15-5 after three periods and then the winners outscored Ballardvale B 6-3 in the fourth stanza.

Peter Wright led the Christ attack with 8 points, Gretchen Suchodolski and Mark Polakow accounted for 4 points apiece, Roger Fisk and Andrew Frost scored single baskets and Bill Earnshaw netted a foul shot.

Russ Lowe paced Ballardvale B with five points. Cheryl Fisk had a fourth period bucket and Rick Brouillard netted a charity.

St. Robert's A, 35-18

St. Robert's A, on the strength of a strong second period, gained its sixth win in nine decisions.

The victors, ahead 6-5 after one period, exploded on a 16-4 second quarter run to take a 22-9 lead at halftime and then played fairly evenly with West Parish the rest of the way.

Ed Melia led St. Robert's with 11 points, including 6 in the pivotal second quarter. John Veilleux chipped in with 8, Mike Melia 4, Ted Staats 4, Ted Anderson 4, Mike Convey 2 and John Terrior 2.

Kevin Rourke had 8 points for West Parish. Larry Aiello notched 5, Chris Abell and Scott Kelly added 2 apiece, while Mike DiMeo swished a free throw.

Temple Emanuel, 21-19

Temple Emanuel was able to withstand a furious fourth quarter rally by upset-minded St. Augustine's A to gain the win.

TE held 6-3, 13-5 and 19-10 advantages at the first three checkpoints, but St. A's went on a 9-2 tear in the final stanza that chiseled the final margin to two points.

Mitch Levine led the balanced offense of Temple Emanuel with 6 points, Stu Leinson added 5, Joel Klaiman 4, and Erik Shenker, Dave Epstein and Dave Eckman accounted for 2 markers.

Joe Murphy notched 10 points for St. A's, James Marocco chipped in 5, while solo buckets were scored by Mike O'Connell and Allan Sillars.

St. Augustine's B, 70-21

Powerful St. Augustine's B placed ten players in the scoring column enroute to its convincing victory over Ballardvale A.

Paul Sheedy and Brian Sheehy shared game-high scoring honors for St. A's with 16 points each, Tim Scanlon also hit double figures with 10 points, Scott McNamara added 8, Steve McGettrick 6, Jeff Wolnik 6 and single buckets were netted by Bob Scanlon, Matt Burke, Rich Burke and Tom Finneran.

Jeff Znamierowski and John McIntyre paced the Ballardvale A attack with 6 points each, Dana Belpedio and Mike Gibbons both hooped 4 and Scott Jangro converted a first quarter free throw.

Champions

The West Parish A team recently captured its third straight Andover Church Basketball League Intermediate Gold Division championship, authoring a perfect 10-0 record to lift its overall ledger to 20-1 the past two seasons and 29-3 over the past three years. Members of this year's edition are, front row (l-r): Mark Berberian, Chris Poor, Stefan Kelly and Patrick Kelley. Back row (l-r): Kurt Burzlaff, Bill O'Brien, Tim Boudreau and Kurt Nickerson. Missing when the photo was taken was Mike Lane. West A came from behind to defeat primary challenger St. Robert's A 33-28 for the title-clinching triumph. West A has now produced nine first place finishes in the past 15 years.

Babe Ruth Tryouts Scheduled

The Andover Babe Ruth Blue and Gold baseball teams will hold their spring tryouts on Saturday and Sunday, April 17 and 18, and Saturday, April 24, at the Andover High varsity and junior varsity baseball fields.

Sunday, April 25, will be reserved as a rain date, or it may also be used if a fourth tryout session is necessary.

All prospective 13-year-old candidates should be prepared to try out between 12 noon and 2 p.m., while all 14 and 15-year-old candidates should report between 2 p.m. and 4 p.m.

All youngsters between the ages of 13 and 15, who reside in Andover, are eligible. Fifteen-year-old candidates may not turn 16 prior to August 1.

The two teams will once again be affiliated with the National Babe Ruth organization, and together with the new Andover Legion team (ages 16 to 19), will form the Andover Youth Baseball Association.

The Andover Youth Baseball Association is simply a new umbrella name, for the former Andover Babe Ruth Baseball Association, with the only major change being the shift to Legion for the older players.

Both the Blue and Gold teams will once again compete in the Greater Lawrence Babe Ruth League, joining teams from North Andover and Lawrence.

League play will begin in late May and continue through July, with plans being formulated for an All-Star team from both squads to participate in several tournaments throughout the Eastern Massachusetts area in August.

Both teams plan to carry 15-man rosters, and all 30 positions are open. Players who were members of either the Blue or Gold squads last summer must try out again this year.

Last season the Gold team finished with a 26-3 overall record, sweeping both the regular season and playoff championships of the Greater Lawrence League.

The Blue team wasn't far behind, battling to the final round of the playoffs and completing its season with a solid 14-7 record.

The previous year both Andover teams chalked up identical 14-6 records, with the Blue advancing to the playoff title round before suffering a tough loss to North Andover.

John Gibson will manage the Blue team this summer, succeeding Howard Larrabee whose business commitments forced him to retire. Jim Carpentier will coach the Blue squad.

Rick Harrison will again manage the Gold team, while Dan Grams will return as the Gold coach.

All candidates are urged to wear spikes to the tryouts.

Because tryouts are being held during school vacation week, any interested youngsters who would like to try out but will be away, are asked to contact either John Gibson or Rick Harrison. A special tryout session will be arranged.

All candidates are also reminded that Babe Ruth tryouts will precede Senior League tryouts, so that anyone failing to make the Babe Ruth rosters will be eligible to try out for Senior League.

For further information, contact either John Gibson or Rick Harrison (475-2007).

From Weaving Textiles To Stringing Cable

By John P. Sawyer

The DASA-Marland Mills property off Stevens Street may soon house approximately 10,000 square-feet of office space for Rollins Cablevision, according to Bertrand Paley of Wood-Ayer Realty, and Attorney Richard Asoian, representing Rollins.

Rollins Cablevision, awarded a provisional license last fall to serve Andover with cable television, could be moving in within the next few weeks, said Paley, if negotiations are soon finalized.

Asoian confirmed that Rollins has reached a "verbal agreement" on a lease.

The DASA property is slated for major renovations along with an effort towards attracting high technology tenants, according to Paley.

The buildings and surrounding area have been cleaned up, he said, and major landscaping is planned. In addition, the river bank will be made more scenic.

"We feel it will be more scenic both for our tenants and for the neighborhood," Paley said.

Last spring, Paley made an informal presentation of plans for a 200-unit townhouse development to the planning board. The planners advised him at that time to wait and see how the 1981 town meeting would handle the request for a multi-family housing zone — a request which was defeated by voters.

Talk has now turned away from possibly converting the DASA property into a condominium development.

The buildings for many years were the property of the J. P. Stevens Co. used in the production of textiles, until the company moved most of their operations south in the 1950's. Since then it has been used for telecommunications manufacturing as well as other diversified, light industries.

DASA-Marland Mills Complex

Tower Sites Examined

Rollins Cablevision could obtain its final license from town authorities within a month and begin wiring Andover for cable television 30 days after license approval, according to Attorney Richard Asoian, representing Rollins.

"We're not far away," he said, "from the point where we'll get the final license."

Last week, special permits were requested before the Zoning Board of Appeals for a tower site at the Andover landfill off Chandler Road in West Andover, and for an earth station proposed at Merrimack College, he said.

Asoian said he hoped to hear from the appeals board within two weeks, and if the permits are approved, Rollins could move towards obtaining its final license.

Rollins Cablevision was awarded a provisional license last fall to serve Andover.

An Emergency Communications System

Rescue-lert

Robert W. Schick, Jr., president of Schick Industries Inc., North Andover, recently announced the introduction of Rescue-lert, an emergency communications system used at home to summon medical aid.

Rescue-lert utilizes a portable hand-held transmitter which allows the patient to send a radio signal to the Home Control Unit. Upon activation, a microchip sends a pre-coded electronic signal to the 24-hour monitoring facility. Trained operators automatically retrieve the patient's information and personally notify the pre-designated rescue team or service. This process takes place in a matter of seconds.

Rescue-lert is designed for those people living alone or in a remote area not frequently visited by family or neighbors, and for those people with a specific health condition who should not be left alone. In the event of a major accident, the patient can summon aid even when he cannot reach the telephone. The product offers an alternative to institutional care for the person who needs "supervision" but does not need hospitalization.

Schick noted: "Rescue-lert allows the elderly to maintain their independence, privacy and dignity without the need to move into a nursing home or 'in with the children.' At the same time it provides great comfort to the family knowing that their parents will not be left alone."

Rescue-lert is distributed by medical dealers specializing in home-health care and directly by Schick Industries Inc.

Annual Crafts Fair Is May 8

The seventh annual Andover Crafts in the Park, sponsored by the Andover Chapter of The American Field Service and the Andover Recreation/Community Schools Department, will be held May 8 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at Memorial Park in Andover.

As in the past, the fair will feature the works of more than 125 craftspersons from all the New England states. Andover Crafts in the Park has traditionally been one of the first outdoor shows of the spring and summer season, and many craftspersons return year after year.

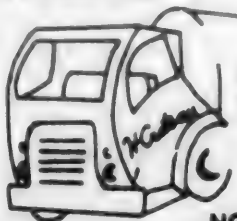

The AFS chapter in Andover has, through its scholarship program, provided an opportunity for many local high school students to live and study abroad for a summer or a full year program. The adult and high school AFS clubs also welcome every year students from other countries who have come to live and study in the United States.

Host families are needed for these students. Any interested family may call Mrs. Leslie Whitley for further information.

In the 1650s German pilgrims brought their tannenbaum (Christmas tree) tradition to the new land, long before the practice took root in England.

All Tax Bills In Mail

Unless they were delayed by this week's untimely snow storm, property tax bills have probably found their way into most Andover taxpayers' mailboxes by now.

Assessor William Russell said fiscal 1982 real estate tax bills were mailed Tuesday afternoon, and are due within 30 days — by May 7.

The bills represent new assessed values from the recent 100 percent revaluation of all property in town. With the total value of the town now assessed at $964,158,100, the tax rate is $19.50 per $1,000 of valuation.

According to Russell, the average single-family Andover home is valued at $93,940, and the average tax bill is $1,831.83, based on 100 percent valuation.

Payment of these bills will complete tax payments for fiscal '82; property-owners made partial payment last December, when they were sent estimated bills. The town could not send out final bills at that time because the revaluation work was not yet complete.

Taxpayers who feel their assessments are unfair — higher than the fair market value of their property — have 30 days in which to file for an abatement with the assessors, Russell explained.

However, they must still pay their bills by May 7, he added. All bills are due May 7, and taxpayers who have not paid by then will be charged 14 percent interest from April 7.

Exemptions for the elderly, blind and veterans were processed last fall, Russell indicated. Taxpayers who have questions about those exemptions should contact the assessors' office.

5% OF THE TIME,
THE SAAB APC TURBO IS AS GOOD AS ANY OTHER TURBO ON THE ROAD.

THE REST OF THE TIME, IT'S BETTER.

All modern turbos are designed to work well under poor conditions. With low octane gas or in hot, dry weather, for example.

The problem is that you run into these conditions only about 5% of the time you're on the road. The other 95% of the time, ordinary turbos just don't live up to their full potential.

The solution to this is the 1982 Saab APC Turbo. Under normal driving conditions, it can actually adjust boost pressure as you drive. Increasing efficiency, power and fuel economy at the same time.

And delivering throttle response that must be experienced to be appreciated.

There's no question that building a turbo to stand up to potential problems is an intelligent thing to do.

But buying one that can live up to its full potential is even more intelligent.

Pole Hill Agreement Back With Attorneys

For a moment Monday night, the salvation of Pole Hill seemed to be at hand. But the town's efforts to save the Ballardvale hill from development remained unresolved this week.

Final Rabies Clinic

A Rabies Clinic, sponsored by the Andover Board of Health and conducted by Dr. Richard D. Lindsay, D.V.M., will be held on Saturday, April 10, from 8:20 a.m. to 12 noon at the East Junior High School woodworking shop. Fee for the vaccination is $4. This is a three-year vaccine. Cats may be vaccinated at this time also. Cats should be vaccinated annually.

few days, the drifting snow seems likely to be with us for a little while to come, an unwelcome reminder of winter's last blast.

In the words of a weary DPW director, "I don't know what happened to spring."

And, the spring blossoms may be even further delayed as forecasters warn of the possibility of additional snow on Friday

Town Manager Kenneth R. Mahony met with representatives of developer Arthur Kalogianis of T.D.J. Development Corp. last week, and reached an agreement on swapping the hill for the town-owned "tea lots" off Woburn Street.

But when the developer's people put the agreement into writing, something was lost in the translation, and the selectmen found they could not accept the developer's version of the agreement Monday night.

"There were some errors in (Kalogianis') document, on things we thought would be straightened out," Mahony said yesterday. "It's been sent back to the attorneys."

The manager and selectmen had expected negotiations for the hill to come to an end Monday night. But a quick look at the developer's document, delivered just minutes before the board meeting began, immediately turned up some problems, according to the manager.

He said he expected the matter to finally be settled next week.

Town officials have been negotiating with the developer for several months to swap the tea lots for Pole Hill, an effort authorized by town meeting last year. Officials would like to preserve the scenic hill as permanent open space.

Kalogianis has an approved plan to build a 69-lot subdivision on the hill. If the swap is completed, it is believed he will build 14 homes on the site — saving most of the hill from development — and some 30 houses on the tea lots site.

Reuse

nance, personnel, computers, janitorial and possibly word processing services, Mahony said.

And senior citizen housing could be located on the first floor of the west wing.

Spaces for at least 190 cars will be provided, the manager indicated, with some of them added on Whittier Street, between the school and Central Park. That wide street is currently used as "a race track" by speeders, he said, and breaking up the street with parking and landscaping would put an end to that.

Architects studying the reuse had considered adding a fourth floor, Mahony said, but found that would be impractical and expensive.

The architects also found there is less space in the building than previous studies had shown, because some interior walls are actually supporting walls, and can not be knocked down.

On the good news side, the architects have also found the school is "not in as bad structural condition as we thought," Mahony said, adding it does not really deserve the nickname of "Old Crumbly" that some members of the School Building Committee have bestowed upon it.

The reuse committee has been working on "two concepts" for the junior high, as well as Town Hall, Shawsheen and the theatre building, the manager explained.

"Plan A" is to sell the buildings to a private developer (or developers), probably large firms such as Prudential Insurance Company. That idea would be attractive to developers because under current tax laws, they could earn a 25 percent tax write-off and five percent depreciation on the buildings, Mahony said.

After "rehabilitating" the structures, the developer would then lease them back to the town for 10 to 20 years, when the town would buy the buildings back.

The advantages of that plan, according to Mahony: renting for several years and then buying the buildings would cost less than funding the renovations with a bond issue—possibly as little as $1 million. And the sale would return $10 to $20 million to the town's tax rolls.

"Plan B" calls for the town to renovate East itself, at a cost of at least $3.5 million. That would still leave the other buildings "for other disposition," Mahony said.

Construction at the East Junior High site, where the Doherty School is being converted into a junior high school with East's Memorial Auditorium to be used as part of the school, is "coming along unbelievably fast," the manager said.

It now appears the east and west wings of the old junior high will be turned over to the town in late July or early August.

No matter how town meeting votes on Article 11, the town will have to spend some money to heat the wings next winter and to provide security patrols, Mahony added.

LANDSCAPING CAN RAISE VALUE

If you want to get maximum value out of the home you buy, whether it's brand new or used, make sure it's properly landscaped. Good landscaping can enhance the appearance of a new house and make it look "established." It can complement the architecture and provide a pleasant environment for outdoor living. Landscaping can also help create privacy and reduce noise. As farmers have long known, landscaping can act as a windbreak and can also keep the home cooler in hot weather.

Put all of these things together and they mean that good landscaping can often increase by 10 or 15% the price you can get when you sell the property.

But do remember that a good landscaping job can cost a lot of money. If you want a lot more than the minimum that builders usually provide, think about having the builder coordinate with a landscape architect to install it when you buy the house, add it to the cost of the home and then you can pay it off over the length of the mortgage rather than parting with a lot of cash at the outset.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at THE HOWE AGENCY, 4 Punchard Ave., Andover. Phone: 475-5100. We're here to help.

Realtors Allowed To Post Signs Free

Andover realtors will no longer pay $25 per year for the privilege of posting their signs on the front lawns of homes for sale. The selectmen reduced that annual fee to zero Monday night — although they promised to take another look at the fee later.

The board also vetoed a one-time $10 fee for homeowners to hook up to the cable television system coming to Andover in about a year; that proposed fee was eliminated.

When the selectmen reviewed a list of proposed increases for inspection fees charged by the Community Developing and Planning department Monday, a number of local realtors appeared at Town Hall to protest the $25 real estate sign fee. The new fee schedule called for raising that fee to $50.

Spokesman William Maren of the Victor Companies said the fee was not in fact a permit fee, but "purely a tax", because "nobody has ever inspected our signs."

Calling the fee "really ridiculous," Maren said it was unfair because it was "a tax on people in one particular business." Other businesses that put up temporary signs in front of homes — painters or building contractors, for example — are not charged fees, he maintained.

Maren said "most towns" do not charge such a fee, adding, "It's not a very big money-maker for the town."

Douglas Howe, Jr. of the Howe Agency pointed out that the fee is not enforced or "applied uniformly," and some agencies — particularly out-of-town agencies — never pay the fee.

Selectman William Dalton moved to reduce the fee to zero, and then "look into fees for all signs in the future." That motion was approved on a four-zero vote, with Edward Harris passing on the vote.

Donn Byrne then moved to eliminate the proposed $10 fee for cable television hook-up. Town Manager Kenneth R. Mahony said the fee was "unnecessary," explaining that surrounding communities with cable service do not charge such a fee.

That motion passed on a three-zero vote, with Dalton abstaining and Harris passing.
